Description

Danish silver and white enamel "Daisy" necklace. 1960s. By Anton Michelsen, Copenhagen 1841 - 1996. Anton Michelsen established his smithy in Copenhagen in 1841 and became one of the most important jewellery families in Denmark. After a short while the company received it's first commission from the Royal Family. The company is now part of Georg Jensen. The Daisy is the Danish national flower, and when the now retired Queen Margrethe was born and christened in 1940, her mother Queen Ingrid was presented with a special Daisy brooch to commemorate the occasion. This lovely necklace is 43cm long. The Daisy measures 1.8 diameter. Excellent vintage condition. Enamel perfect.
