Description

Early Victorian Revolving Height Adjustable Stool. A charming piano stool. We bring to you this fine example of an Antique Victorian Rosewood revolving piano stool on a height adjustable screw mechanism believed to be made around C1850. This good-looking stool is completely original and has its original French polished finish throughout complete with lovely lightly faded original colour showing patina and character. This fine revolving stool is in fantastic working condition and rotates smoothly (which slowly raises and lowers the seat-pad). The stool seat is upholstered in a historic handmade tapestry depicting a floral scene trimmed with a braid. The upholstered seat-pad is nicely framed by a rosewood surround below the braid. The polished brass seat shaft conceals the seat's large screw thread which descends into the heptagonal ascending base pillar. The central pillar sits on a turned collar going to a particularly nicely crafted triform base on saucer feet. The stool rotates 360 degrees, the seat height can be adjusted by turning it into the base of the stool. This stool is in amazing condition for its age as shown by the photographs however being an antique item o...
