Description

A large antique oak chest, dating from the late 18th century. It is most likely continental and has a hinged lid opening on its original strap hinges. It is a good quality piece with raised geometric panels on the front, panelled sides and a planked top with moulded edge. It stands on bracket feet with a carved frieze. A great size for a coffee table, end of bed storage or even a TV stand. It is in good condition for its age and displays well. The oak has a lovely rich colour and the interior is generally clean and tidy. There are some signs of use and age, some general knocks and surface marks, minor shrinkage splits and a couple of old repairs but nothing detrimental and no major damages. There are some minor signs of old woodworm which has all been treated as a precaution. The box has been cleaned and gently polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
