Description

A Charming And Good Quality 18th Century English Chippendale Period, George III Period, Rectangular Giltwood Wall Mirror, Having Superbly Carved Rococo Design Frame, Featuring Elegant Scrolls, Decorated Floral Motifs And Mainly Original Rich Gilded Decoration, Enclosing Attractive Replacement Old Mirror Plate. A lovely 18th century mirror which features many of the well known and highly regarded designs from the chippendale rococo period. In terms of overall condition the gilt retains a lovely vivid colour to it, whilst not being overpoweringly shiny and bright like any that have been totally regilded. In fact this lovely mirror almost certainly retains its original gilding with various touched up sections throughout the years. It should also be noted that as expected for something of this age and it's relatively delicate nature there is some historic breaks and repairs to the frame, all of which have been sympathetically repaired and restored to blend in beautifully over the course of its history. The mirror plate itself is also replaced, but is actually old and in very good condition. The mirror is a good size in terms of its functionality, big enough to have presen...
