Description

A beautifully crafted Art Nouveau copper bucket in wonderful antique condition. The hammered copper body has a beautifully embossed foliate motif to the front and has a beautifully domed lid fitted with wrought-iron handle. The whole piece is supported by elegantly scrolled wrought-iron legs and side handles. Originally intended as a coal or kindling scuttle, it now works equally well as a decorative accent, fireside accessory, or storage piece. Solid, stable, and full of charm, it brings a touch of early 20th-century craftsmanship to any interior. Internal reference : SAI4036
