Description

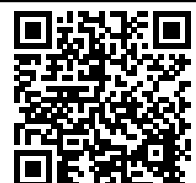

Antique Large Pair of Japanese Bronze Mixed Metal Vases – Exquisite Meiji Period Artist Pieces. Full of authentic charm and character, this exceptional large pair of Japanese bronze mixed metal vases dates to the Meiji Period, circa 1910, and reflects fine artistic craftsmanship. Each vase shows the artist's signature on its base, confirming both their authenticity and quality. The pair are impressively large, with each vase measuring approximately 28cm high and 15cm in diameter. With a captivating organic form, they are highly decorative and visually striking, enhancing both traditional and contemporary interiors alike. The vases are in very good antique condition overall, showing only minor historic marks and typical signs of use. Please note they may not be fully watertight and should be used with liners if intended for wet floral arrangements; they would make brilliant decorative objects.
