Description

Antique Victorian mahogany tripod side table featuring a barley twist pedestal support, scrolled tripod supports and a circular dish top. English, circa 1850s. Excellent overall condition - as with all antiques, wear is commensurate with age and use - so expected marks and surface wear visible to the table top; giving it historic character and antique charm. Solid in joint and well crafted. A very versatile antique - perfect as a lamp table, wine table, or occasional table, this piece works beautifully in both traditional interiors and more contemporary settings.
