Description

This is a very high quality Early 19th century rosewood and walnut Spanish console table with turned legs. Totally original including the metal supports. The overall condition is exceptional with no major issues. For me the bobbin turned legs and the bold Geometric pattern top make this table stand out and be hugely decorative. Neat sizes as well. There are also strung details around the edge of the top in what looks to be maple or similar which really highlight the quality. Height 79cm Width 96cm Depth 38cm
