Item Reference: SA1189614

Date of manufacture: Victorian

Description

This is a Victorian silver decanter/bottle label for Kimmel. This can also be spelt Kummel. It is a traditional sweet clear herbal liqueur dating back to the 17th century flavoured with caraway, cumin and fennel. The label is by William Comyns, London 1895. I have only managed to find two other examples so would appear to be a rare label. L 4 cm W 1.5 cm
