Description

An elegant French Vernis Martin secretaire cabinet dating from the late 19th century, circa 1890. The cabinet is topped with a rouge marble slab and fitted with a drop-front writing surface opening to a fitted interior with shelving and drawers. Retains its original blue velvet writing surface. Of particular note is a concealed secret drawer, released by a hidden push mechanism - a fine example of traditional French cabinetmaking ingenuity. The front panel is decorated with a finely painted Vernis Martin scene, and the cabinet stands on graceful cabriole legs with decorative mounts. A highly decorative and functional piece, ideal for use as a small desk or statement cabinet. Height 128cm x Width 60cm x Depth 39cm
