Description

Early 20th century carnival / fairground game panel Dimensions in inches: H 29" x W 21" x D 4" Age: 1920 Origin: England Condition: Fair Overview A highly decorative example of an early 20th century English fairground / carnival shooting target. Hand painted detail on sectioned pine board with rear support in place. Some old nails in place that would have held a cotton sack where small wooden balls would have been thrown into. This example would have been accompanied by numerous other boards as part of a large fairground amusement game. Completely untouched in form and in original condition as shown. • Scratches across its surface • Rusty old nails are present • A loss of wood under the mouth as shown (doesn't affect the stability) • Solid in form • Loss of painted surface Shipping & Handling • UK Buyers: Delivery available via trusted couriers, including bespoke service for large or fragile items • International Buyers: Shipping available worldwide — please contact us for a custom quote before purchase • We highly recommend tracked, insured, and crated shipping for this item due to its rarity and fragility • Shipping time: 3–5 working days to dispatch Our Guara...
