Description

This vintage 18ct gold ring features a vivid cabochon ruby at its centre, beautifully framed by a decorative silver cluster set with bright diamonds. The design captures the elegance of early to mid 20th-century craftsmanship, with a striking balance between the ruby's rich pink-red hue and the soft brilliance of the surrounding stones. The openwork silver setting lends an added sense of depth and light, giving the ring a charming, almost floral character. A wonderfully detailed vintage piece with a radiant centre stone and plenty of period charm. Part of our vintage ruby ring collection.
