Description

This is a strong example of Art Deco design and craftsmanship from the 1920s. A step-cut sapphire sits at the centre, framed by four old-cut diamonds and intersected with sharply defined triangular-cut sapphires. The use of negative space, characteristic of the period, gives the ring an impressive spread across the finger. Confident in both design and execution, it is a distinctive piece of early 20th-century artistry. MEASUREMENTS : Head dimensions: 19.45 x 15.77mm. Approximate total diamond weight: 2.17ct. Sapphires: 0.70ct CURRENT SIZE : N 1/2
