Description

A Geo III mahogany coffee table. The octagonal top with raised edge and a segmented satinwood inlaid centre circle, above a vase shaped stem and three splay legs with original brass barrel castors. The top and bottom of this table are both Georgian but did not start life together, the table was made up many years ago to be used as a practical piece of furniture as there were no coffee tables in the Georgian period. The table is in great condition with good colour and patina and very stable so would take a tray if needed. English Circa 1780.
