Description

Victorian deep buttoned sofa, upholstered in a red fabric , dating from the late 19th century. The sofa features a fully buttoned back and arms, generously rolled scroll arms, and a long, elegant frame. Raised on turned mahogany legs with castors, the sofa closely follows traditional Victorian design. The deep buttoning and bold upholstery give the piece strong presence, while its proportions make it suitable for both display and everyday use. The piece would also lend itself well to restoration or re-upholstery, offering an excellent base for a bespoke fabric choice while retaining its classic form. Good second-hand condition. Upholstery shows light wear and gentle shading would benefit from restoration or re-upholstery. A versatile and decorative sofa, ideal for traditional interiors, period properties, or as a restoration project.
