Description

A fine antique early Victorian terrestrial Wyld's Globe 12-inch table globe, dated 1849. The globe with twelve gores, a brass meridian ring and horizon band bears the label WYLD'S Globe of the Earth, WITH THE LATEST DISCOVERIES London, Published by JAMES WYLDE, Charing Cross East 1849. It is mounted on a turned mahogany stand with cross stretchers and the globe is 30.5cm (12 inch) in diameter; James Wyld 1812-1887 followed in the footsteps of his father, James Wyld Senior, as a geographer and cartographer. His firm was in operation from about 1837 to 1893 at addresses at Charing Cross and West Strand, producing a general variety of table and floor globes. Wyld is best known for renting land in Leicester Square where he constructed a Great Globe, 20 meters in diameter. He also re-issued the Addison/Malby 3 foot diameter globe. Add some worldly knowledge to your home with this amazing globe. Condition: In really excellent condition. As an antique item, the globe show minor signs of use commensurate with age, these minor condition issues are mentioned for accuracy and, as seen in the accompanying photographs, the globe displays beautifully.
