Description

Vintage Bamboo Desk / Dressing Table / Console Table A nicely proportioned vintage bamboo desk that effortlessly doubles as a dressing table or console. Crafted from natural bamboo with woven rattan panels, this piece has a light, airy presence and timeless appeal. The design features two drawers fitted with smart solid brass campaign-style handles, adding a subtle touch of refinement and contrast to the organic materials. An attractive gallery rail runs along the back and sides, while the splayed legs give the table a graceful, well-balanced stance. Table top height is 76cm. Condition: Good vintage condition overall, with expected signs of age and use. There is a small area of loss to the top middle section, clearly shown in the final photograph, which does not detract from the overall charm or usability of the piece.
