Description

A wonderful Edwardian English sterling silver tea caddy with a hinged lid and ring handles to each side. The body is beautifully decorated with garlands and a simple floral motif. The lid fits well and the hinge in full working order; once opened, a lavishly gilded interior is revealed. The caddy is marked on the back for Birmingham 1902 (the makers mark is somewhat rubbed); this caddy is lucky enough to have an English design registration number on the underside (390774) for 1902. Registration numbers were reserved for items of notable value, the system was not mandatory for all products, it was costly, and it was designed to protect only the most innovative or valuable designs. Excellent antique condition measuring 4" handle to handle x 2 1/2" x 4" tall to top of finial. Weighing 130.6 Grams / 4.2 Troy Ounces.
