Description

A wonderful piece of history. A solid Britannia Standard silver spoon dating from the beginning of the reign of Queen Anne. It carries the hallmarks for London 1704 with the maker's mark of John Broake. The spoon has a 'dog nose', typical of the fashion of the time, and a rat tail at the base of the handle. There is no crest. The Britannia Standard was introduced in 1696 and signifies a purer standard of silver than sterling - 95.8% compared to the 92.5% of sterling. Dimensions: Weight: 30g Length: 17.5cm. Complimentary gift wrapping is available on request. Post and packaging are free within the UK. Overseas buyers please e-mail for postage costs and please note: Import duties, taxes, and charges are not included in the item price or shipping cost. These charges are the buyer's responsibility. Please check with your country's customs office to determine what these additional costs will be prior to buying.
