Description

A lovely oak tilt-top table dating from the late 18th / early 19th Century. It is a good size with a circular planked top set on a gun barrel support with nicely shaped tripod splayed legs. The oak has mellowed to a lovely warm colour and it has its original blacksmith-made closing latch. It is in good condition for its age and is strong and sturdy. There are signs of age and use, a few minor marks on the top surface and a few old repairs but no major damages or anything detrimental. There is a little bit of historic worm in the feet which has all been treated as a precaution. The whole piece has a beautiful rich patina and is a lovely honest piece of country furniture. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask. Nationwide delivery available through our network of reliable couriers.
