Description

An imposing and richly detailed French château mirror dating to the late 19th century, this piece embodies the grandeur and decorative finesse of the Belle Époque. The frame is carved from warm-toned hardwood with deep relief work, featuring a central urn motif flanked by garlands and scrolling acanthus—hallmarks of classical revival design. Its generous proportions and architectural presence make it ideal for anchoring a formal interior, whether above a fireplace, console, or in a grand hallway. The mirror plate retains its original glass with gentle foxing, adding to its authenticity and charm. This is a statement piece with aristocratic provenance, perfect for clients seeking drama, history, and elegance in their decorative schemes. Suitable for private collectors, interior designers, or film set hire where period accuracy and visual impact are paramount. Delivery can be arranged nationwide
