Description

A beautiful and elegant pair of antique or vintage French-style armchairs (fauteuils), offering a perfect blend of classic continental design and vibrant, contemporary upholstery. The frames are in the traditional Louis XVI style, evident in their refined neoclassical features, such as the straight, fluted, column-like legs and symmetrical lines. The wood frame has a painted finish, which adds a charming, aged appeal. The chairs have been recently and professionally reupholstered in high-end designer Penny Morrison Killi Pink 100% linen fabric. The bold, three-colour vertical pattern provides a stunning, modern contrast to the vintage frames. Style: Louis XVI, Neoclassical Material: Painted Wood Frame, 100% Linen Upholstery Colour: Pink and White fabric, painted frame Condition: Excellent vintage condition; newly upholstered. Origin: Likely French, but the style was widely produced in other European countries This pair is of high quality, featuring traditional upholstery methods (likely hand-tied springs and natural stuffing), suggesting they were crafted in the late 19th or early 20th century. This robust construction ensures their lasting durability and authenti...
