Description

This 1920s pine wardrobe, originating from Germany, features a gently arched top and two panelled doors, complemented by two drawers at the base. The wardrobe has been stripped of its original paint finish, revealing the bare wood, which is in good condition considering its age. The design includes a flat top behind the curved front, suitable for additional storage. The panelled sides contribute to its balanced proportions. The wardrobe disassembles for ease of transport and reassembly, making it practical for various living spaces. Internally, the wardrobe is currently empty, with remnants of previous shelving that can be removed if desired. A hanging rail could be installed at the top, and small pegs at the back are unobtrusive. The internal depth is ample, making it suitable for hanging coats and larger items. The two lower drawers are equipped with vintage brass cup handles and operate smoothly. The price is £800 as it is, or £897 if you'd like it waxed. Height: 79.5", width: 49.5", depth: 23.5" Height: 202cm, width: 126cm, depth: 60cm
