Description

A giant engraved Corniche carriage clock by Delépine-Barrois of Paris and Saint Nicolas d'Algermont. The eight-day duration movement has a platform lever escapement and strikes the hours and half-hours on a gong with a repeat via a button to the top. The backplate is stamped with the serial number 730 along with the hand setting arrow design as used by Delépine-Barrois, fine carriage clock makers with a workshop in Saint Nicolas d'Algermont. The white enamel dial has black Roman hour numerals, Arabic five-minute outer numerals and blued steel spade hands. The giant case is of excellent quality and is fully engraved with floral and scroll decoration. I have been undertaking research into the clockmakers Delépine-Barrois and identified them to be the married couple Ludovic Delépine and Marie Barrois. For further details of Delépine-Barrois, their relationship with other carriage clock makers and images of their workshops follow the link to www.extence.co.uk/exhibition-catalogues and open the article: Carriage Clock Makers of Saint Nicolas illustrated by Postcards. In Summary: The Delépine of Delépine-Barrois is not Charles-Boromé taking on a new partner after the death ...
