Description

It's the little details that make an IWC so special. This is a totally original example of a gent's classic wristwatch made by the world renowned premier maker International Watch Company or IWC. This is a very rare and all original IWC calibre 8531 one of the finest automatics ever made and known as the "watchmakers watch" as you can see it is in superb condition. It is keeping time to within 3 seconds per day quite remarkable for a 66 year old watch. The very rare black pie pan dial with distinctive inboard date is totally original and untouched, it has never been restored, it's in superb condition with just a fine surface patina to give away its age. Crucially it has the black background with white numerals on the date ring which confirms that it left the factory as a black dial version and has not been later repainted. These are extremely rare. All we have done is service the movement and ultrasonically clean the case. The attention to detail is what makes these IWC watches stand out from other manufacturers. The movement has Pelaton automatic winding the most efficient winding system but very expensive to make. The minute markers are small polished silver plated ...
