Description

This is a beautiful Italian School oil on canvas painting after Raphael, depicting the Madonna and Child in its original giltwood Florentine frame, Circa 1800 in date. Paintings works are characterized by tender human emotion, soft lighting, and balanced, in pyramidal compositions. They typically feature a melancholic Mary embracing a lively Christ Child set against a softly painted dark background. The overall composition, soft colours, and serene expressions evoke the influence of artists like Raphael, known for his balanced and graceful Madonna depictions. The gold ornate frame emphasizes the importance and sacredness of the figures, further enhancing the religious context. Provenance: Corby Castle, Carlisle, England Lord and Lady Ballyedmond It is a beautiful and spiritual painting which will grace any room in your home. Condition: In excellent condition the painting and frame having been beautifully cleaned in our workshops, please see photos for confirmation.
