

SA1195673

Model of a sailing ketch

Price

GBP 1,600

| USD $2,181 | EUR 1,867

Item Reference: SA1195673

Date of manufacture: 1910

Dimensions

Height = 58.5 cm (23.0")

Width = 76.5 cm (30.1")

Description

A cased scale model of a sailing ketch built by Dickie & Sons of Tarbert, Scotland, circa 1914. Height: 58.5 cm. Width: 76.5 cm. Depth: 30.5 cm. Labelled COLLENA [sic], probably COLLEEN by Dickie & Sons of Tarbert, see Lloyd's Register Of Yachts 1915, page 164. 299 Colleen wood Sckch A.M.Dickie Tarbet 1914 Paraffin Motor. Owner Joseph Buchannan, Glasgow. A. M. Dickie & Sons (often referred to as Dickies of Tarbert) was a renowned boatyard based in Tarbert, Loch Fyne, Scotland, established in 1868 by Archibald Dickie. The yard was famous for building strong, high-quality, and seaworthy fishing boats and yachts.

Seller Details

Hatchwell Antiques

533 Kings Road London SW10 0TZ United Kingdom

Tel: 020 7351 2344

International Tel: +44 20 7351 2344

