Description

A good example of an antique solid silver sugar bowl. It has a shaped rim and stands on three small feet. It is stylish and good quality and weighs approximately 60g. It is hallmarked for Birmingham, 1926 and the maker James Woods & Sons. The mark is slightly rubbed but still readable. It is in good condition for its age. There are no major damages and it displays well. There are some faint surface marks and a few small dinks and signs of age and use but nothing detrimental. It has been gently cleaned and polished and is ready for use. The best description comes from the photos so please look at them all carefully and if you have any questions just ask.
