Description

Victorian burr walnut pedestal desk This superb Victorian burr walnut pedestal desk was made circa 1870. It was made in one of the premier London workshops of the period, where quality was more important than the cost. Made in 3 pieces, the pedestals are separate and the top is placed on top, this allows easy transportation to and around your home or office. The top section has the original inset green writing surface that is gilt tooled. Below the writing surface you have three drawers, the centre drawer is wider and is above the kneehole, then to each side of this are drawers that sit above the pedestals. The pair of pedestals are each fitted with 3 graduated drawers, all the drawers have their original turned knob handles. This Victorian desk is finished to the rear, so it can be set away from a wall and in the middle of a room. Victorian burr walnut pedestal desk dating to circa 1870 is a fine example of fine English Victorian furniture. The cabinetmaker selected fine burr walnut to enhance the desks look and to make this a set apart item. Victorian burr walnut desks are uncommon and so they are most desirable and set them aside from the standard desks that you will ...
