Description

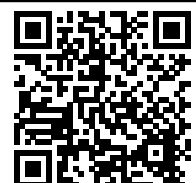

A substantial 19th century oak housekeeper's cupboard or linen press, constructed in two sections and offering excellent practical storage. The upper section has a pair of framed and panelled doors opening to a single compartment with a fixed shelf. Below is a run of three drawers fitted with turned wooden knobs, the central drawer retaining its escutcheon. The lower section houses a further pair of panelled cupboard doors opening to a generous storage space. Raised on shaped bracket feet and finished with a simple moulded cornice, the cupboard is crafted in solid oak throughout, with a warm colour and attractive grain developed through age and use. Item Reference: M-6621 Dimensions Height - 199.5cm / Width - 128cm /Depth - 55cm CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition throughout with signs of age. There is surface wear in places, including age-related marks, scratches to the exterior and interior surfaces (pictured). The drawer linings and interior show general wear and patination consistent with use. The cupboard remains structurally solid and sound, with doors and drawers running well. Overall, a clean and honest example of a 19th century oak housekeeper's cup...
