Description

A very decorative Dutch walnut and marquetry display cabinet dating from the 19th Cent. It is of typical break front design with canted sides. It is in what could be described as "country house" condition in that it is original and unrestored but does have a few knocks and marks. The marquetry is all there and the glass looks all to be original with the odd imperfections you would expect. Inside it has the original old faded velvet lining and original shaped shelves. The door opens and closes ok but the lock is not operative. Contents not included. Free local delivery (50mls), national and international delivery arranged at cost.
