Description

A large 19th-century oil painting on canvas which depicts a dynamic English fox hunt in full motion, with mounted riders in traditional red coats galloping across open countryside, accompanied by a lively pack of hounds. The horses are rendered with energy and convincing movement, while the sweeping landscape and soft, muted sky provide depth and balance to the scene. The painting captures both the excitement and tradition of early Georgian country sport. The work is presented in a carved giltwood frame that complements the painting beautifully and enhances its antique character. Medium Oil on canvas Date Early to mid-19th century Subject English fox hunt / Sporting scene with horses and hounds Condition Good antique condition. This painting has been relined at some stage, not uncommon with paintings of this age. Dimensions Canvas dimensions: 75 x 60cm Framed dimensions: 89 x 75 x 6cm Provenance / Notes A classic example of early 19th-century British sporting art, ideal for collectors of equestrian art, English country house décor, or antique sporting paintings.
