Description

We are delighted to offer this splendid antique Edwardian peridot necklace made c.1900. The pendant is made in 9ct antique gold and presents a fabulous Art Nouveau design. Taking inspiration from nature's beautiful patterns and motifs, the necklace features a foliate wing-like design which creates a satisfying symmetry and draws your eyes to its centre. In the centre, two peridot stones have been finely mounted with a lovely lime green/honey tone which further accentuates and complements its Art Nouveau style. The bottom portion is suspended and the pendant comes to life upon wearing with the movement of the freely moving parts in full effect. Furthermore, the intricacy and superb craftsmanship is evident in the very fine mounts and graduating seed pearls which have been meticulously set. Not only does such a design serve as a testament to the goldsmith's skill, but it also accentuates the central peridots, allowing them to glisten in their best light. Elegant, tasteful and opulent, it would most certainly grace a blouse in the summer or on top of a jumper in the cooler seasons and is a lovely way to display your passion for fine antiques and exquisite jewellery, distingu...
