Description

French Antique Gilt Brass & Cut Glass Chandelier An elegant example of French lighting from the early twentieth century, this antique gilt brass and cut glass chandelier has good decorative detail. The chandelier's gilt brass arms curve outward to support tear drop cut glass droplets that catch and reflect the light. This five arm chandelier stems from an ornately decorated ceiling rose with an adjustable chain. The central balastrade is generously decorated leading down to a bulbous ball from which issue five C-scroll arms leading to bobèche drip pans holding the candle light bulbs. Professionally cleaned and carefully tested, the chandelier comes with a full set of bulbs. As with all electrical appliances we recommend that you have it tested and fitted by an approved electrician.
