Description

A fine pair of Regency mahogany elbow chairs of elegant design and excellent craftsmanship. The chairs stand upon ring-turned front legs with swept sabre back legs, typical of the Regency period. The shaped and reeded arms are supported by turned uprights, adding both strength and refinement to the design. Each chair features a rope-twist carved and turned centre rail, while the top rail is enhanced with hand-cut brass inlaid lines, providing a subtle yet striking decorative accent. Having recently been restored and reupholstered in our own workshop, these chairs are presented in good condition and are ready for immediate use.
