Description

The Coronation Rarity 1838 Victoria Gold Sovereign NGC MS64 A First-Year Masterpiece Struck in the first full year of Queen Victoria's reign, this 1838 Sovereign is a breath-taking "Condition Rarity" that has escaped the heavy circulation typical of the era. While millions were minted to fuel the British Empire's economy, almost all were worn down or melted; finding a survivor in this elite state of preservation is a numismatic triumph. The Royal Fillet (Band): The hairband is rendered with incredible precision; each individual line of the silk-like fillets is clearly separated and sharp, showing absolutely no "flattening" from circulation. Wyon's Intricate Hairwork: Every strand of the Queen's hair is visible in high definition, flowing seamlessly from the forehead into the bun with a crispness that is rarely seen outside of Proof strikes. The Signature "Pigtail" Curl: The delicate, spiralling curl at the nape of the neck—often the first detail to wear away—is perfectly formed and fully rounded, retaining its original three-dimensional depth. The Perfection of the Bun: The tight, braided bun is a marvel of detail; the individual twists and the "tucked-in" ends are s...
