Description

Smart pair of late C19th / early C20th French rosewood , satinwood and kingwood marquetry tables in the C18th Louis XVI period taste . The serpentine outline tops having brass-banded edges and inlaid with Chinoiserie design marquetry panels depicting pagodas ,a bridge and a Junk , in a fantastical landscape setting. The lower brass banded platforms inlaid with marquetry designs of precious objects in the manner of the celebrated French C18th ebeniste, Charles Topino (1735-1803) . Of freestanding form , each fitted 3 floral marquetry inlaid drawers with ornate brass escutcheons, working locks and a single key . The sides with further panels of floral marquetry drawers, the versos veneered in opposing 'chevroned' panels . The shapely cabriole supports each fitted with brass sabots. A fine and decorative pair of French 'tables volantes' of practical scale and proportions, which could be used in multiple settings, either perhaps in a drawing room or bedroom. Both tables in excellent original condition with no damage or repairs. Have been cleaned and waxed in our workshops ready for use . H 28" W 17" D 12"
