Description

This is a very nice quality, early 20th century solid oak dining table. Lovely warm colour to the oak and wonderful figuring. The design is beautifully simple, a classic refectory style that works so well in both modern and traditional homes. The condition overall is very good with only minor age related marks. The size is extremely practical and will sit 10 people comfortably. As the table is solid oak, making it very heavy but does break down if required for delivery and access.
