Description

A pair of elegant French fauteuils in coral velvet, dating to around 1920, with all the decorative charm and lightness of the early 20th-century revival styles. The carved wooden frames are time-worn that highlights the scrolling arms, shaped aprons and cabriole legs, giving each chair a refined, feminine silhouette. The upholstery is a standout feature: a vibrant coral velvet with deep buttoning to the backs and generously cushioned seats, creating a luxurious, inviting feel. The warm rich coral velvet gives the chairs a theatrical, salon-like presence—glamorous without being overbearing. These fauteuils work beautifully as accent chairs, dressing-room pieces, or decorative seating in living spaces where colour and character are welcome. Their scale, comfort and visual impact make them especially appealing to decorators looking for something both pretty and practical. A decorative and highly expressive pair that brings instant French elegance to any interior. Delivery can be arranged nationwide, please contact me for further details
