Description

An early 20th century oak tripod occasional table, with an attractively shaped top carved in bold foliate relief centred by a small cross, set over three splayed legs, each incised with a single poppy, united by a shaped undertier carved with crossed Allied flags and lettering. Made in the years following the First World War, the combination of Allied flags, poppy carving and central cross clearly marks it as a commemorative piece, its restrained form and hand-cut detail reflecting strong Arts and Crafts influence. Very good condition with minor surface wear and small marks consistent with age. Structurally sound, clean and ready to place in the home. English, circa 1920.
