Description

A charming 19th-century antique oak dresser. The upper section has a moulded cornice above a three-shelf rack back with iron hooks. The lower section features three drawers with wooden knob handles, supported by turned front legs and united by an open under-tier shelf or pot board. Raised on shaped bracket feet, the dresser separates into two parts for easy transport and movement. Item Reference: M-6720 . Dimensions: Height - 211cm/ Width - 185.5cm/ Depth - 43.5cm / Surface Height - 89cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition overall, showing expected signs of age and use. There is surface wear throughout, including age-related marks and scratches. Staining is present to the surface and under-tier shelf, however, this does not affect the structural integrity of the piece. There is evidence of minor historic woodworm to the rack (as pictured). This is long inactive and has been treated as a precautionary measure. There is also staining to the potboard, which reflects the working history of the piece and does not detract from its overall appeal.
