Description

An attractive Georgian oak dresser, dating from the late 18th century. The upper section features a rack with a shaped cornice above an open plate rack with three shelves and a boarded back, framed by decorative shaped side supports. The base is fitted with two drawers, retaining brass swan-neck handles and decorative escutcheons, above a scalloped apron. It is raised on slender turned front legs with straight rear legs, united by a central stretcher. A charming and practical piece with genuine character and history. Item Reference: M-6604 . Dimensions: Height - 188cm/ Width - 125cm/ Depth - 45cm / Surface Height - 87cm . CONDITION REPORT: In good antique condition for its age, with wear consistent with age and use. There is historic woodworm, as expected with a piece of this period — most notably to the drawer interiors and back, with minor evidence to the front. This is long inactive and has been treated as a precaution. The drawers run smoothly, though they do not sit completely flush within the frame. There is a historic burn mark to one of the shelves, forming part of the piece's working life. General surface wear, marks, and age-related imperfections are present t...
