Description

An exceptional Early Victorian tilt-top centre table dating to circa 1840, crafted from beautifully figured mahogany. The circular top displays a striking radial veneer sunburst pattern. The top sits on a traditional tilting mechanism, allowing the top to be raised vertically for convenient storage. The table stands on a substantial and highly decorative tri-form base, featuring bold hand-carved scroll details and elegant cabriole legs, terminating in original brass castors for ease of movement. Both decorative and functional, this is a striking and timeless piece of period furniture. Excellent antique condition with a rich, well-preserved patina consistent with age. Top Diameter 125cm (49.25") H 74cm (29") Floor to underside of table 65cm (25.5")
