Description

A large and impressive oil on canvas by Alfred Glendening jnr depicting a countryside river scene with a fisherman amongst thick vegetation. It is monogrammed AAG and dated 1883 on the lower right hand side. This distinguishes Alfred junior from Alfred senior who signed his name in full. We have had the painting professionally cleaned and restored. The painting is housed in the beautiful and original wood and gilt gesso frame. As a result we are delighted with the outcome. Several of these paintings have been much sought after and have sold at auctions including Bonham's and Christies. BIOGRAPHY - Alfred Augustus Glendening Jnr (1861 - 1903) This Victorian landscape artist was born in London and began his adult life as a railway clerk. He exhibited his first work at The Royal Society of British Artists, "Morning on Grasmere Lake" From that point on, he became a frequent exhibitor at the Society, as well as the Royal Academy (RA) - exhibiting his first work there, A Cornfield - Kent, in 1865. Among his other important works were Summer Evening (RA -1867), The Thames at Hampton (RA - 1873), Sunbury (RA - 1877), Belough on the Bure, Norfolk (RA - 1889) and In the...
