Description

A superb antique sterling silver bread basket, beautifully formed as a classic boat-shaped centrepiece with pierced sides. Elegant yet practical, it is generously proportioned and makes a striking statement on the table — perfect for bread rolls, pastries, or serving biscuits and treats. Crafted in solid sterling silver (925) by the respected London maker John Hunt, this design is a timeless favourite and was produced in variations by some of the great names (including Elkington), reflecting its enduring popularity and refined look. Hallmarks: full London Assay Office marks for 1938, plus maker's mark. Size: 32 × 17.7 cm; height 7 cm. Weight: 269.32 g. Condition: excellent — no dents, repairs, splits or losses. An elegant addition to the dining table and a desirable collector's piece.
