Description

18th Century Carved Oak Coffe A charming 18th century carved oak coffer with excellent colour and rich, well-aged patina. The front is decorated with three hand-carved geometric panels featuring diamond and circular motifs, beneath a carved frieze of repeating fan arches, typical of traditional country craftsmanship. The coffer has a plank top that lifts to reveal generous storage, making it both decorative and practical. Raised on simple sturdy supports, it has pleasing proportions and plenty of character. A classic period oak piece, ideal for use as a blanket chest, hallway coffer, or decorative storage in a traditional or modern interior.
