Description

Step back into the refined world of 19th-century personal grooming with this beautifully designed silver-plated shaving mug, dating to around 1880. This highly practical and decorative item was once a staple in a well-dressed gentleman's morning routine, and today it stands as a rare survivor of that elegant era. Crafted in silver plate over a sturdy base metal, this shaving mug features a removable inner tray with pierced holes, allowing shaving soap or a brush to rest above the heated water below. Measurements: Height: 3 1/2" (approx. 9cm) Width: 6 1/2" (approx. 16.5cm) Depth: 2 1/2" (approx. 6.5cm) Total weight: 292g In good condition – Good antique condition with surface wear and small scuffs consistent with age. Removable tray fits snugly and is in good working order.
