Description

Here is a really fantastic Art Deco mirror in clear and Emerald green glass. Measuring 77cm by 48cm, the central mirror is beveled and has curved edges, and is bordered by four emerald green panels with beveled squares incised under the glass. A real statement piece and such a great example of the design of the Art Deco era. This mirror has a real jewel-like quality, and catches the light beautifully. The mirror shows foxing to the glass throughout, but I personally really like this effect and think it adds great character - please look at the photos to see if this 'look' is for you. The mirror is free from chips and cracks, and hangs from a chain to the back. Please don't hesitate to get in touch if I can give any more information or further photographs. I offer free postage throughout mainland UK, and am very happy to help with quotes for shipping abroad.
