Description

A good George II mahogany lowboy of excellent colour; the well-figured solid mahogany top with a moulded edge and rounded corners. It has one shallow and two deep cock-beaded drawers retaining the untouched original handles and the original oak drawer linings. The shaped apron is raised on well-shaped cabriole legs with a slipper foot. At just 30" wide and of the most wonderful untouched colour and surface, this lowboy is an excellent example of early Georgian mahogany furniture.
