Description

A Lovely Pair of Antique Victorian Silver Plated Napkin Rings formed as a polished band with simple engraved line detail and a vacant cartouche panel to the top. A standing girl figure is attached to each ring, modelled in period dress with a hat and detailed drapery folds. A textured dog figure is applied to the opposite side, creating a charming narrative "girl and dog" theme typical of Victorian novelty tableware. Marked with Registration Number '168938' for the year 1891. * Victorian tableware often carried a sense of humour, and these little figures capture that perfectly. Measurements: Height: 2 1/4" (approx. 6cm) Width: 2 3/4" (approx. 7cm) Diameter of Napkin Ring: 1 1/2" (approx. 4cm) Total weight: 202g In good condition – Both rings present well overall, with the figures remaining crisp and clearly defined. There is light surface wear to the silver plate consistent with age and use.
